

Oklahoma Christian School of Education Disclosure Announcement

Updated: Spring, 2022

As required by the U.S. Department of Education, university programs preparing students for teacher certification (licensure) are required to post a disclosure announcement indicating with which states the education program is compliant for certification. This announcement is also to be shared with out-of-state and prospective students at the time of enrollment via email or U.S. mail.

Note: In most cases, certified Oklahoma teachers can immediately be hired in another state; however, the teacher may have to take additional licensure tests and, in rare circumstances, additional courses.
